

The Threshold of Life, a place of lasting hope

In 2023, the Governor's Office of Community Service received approval for an outdoor memorial on the Capitol grounds. The Threshold of Life design, by Bozeman-based architect Ken VanDeWalle, considers the sloping topography of the Capitol Park area and creates an intentional space for all people. The design is an inclusive memorial to honor past, present, and future individuals and families impacted by organ donation.

In accordance with House Bill 585, the cost for the procurement, installation, maintenance of the memorial must be paid from private funds. With a goal of raising $500,000, this project will serve to honor those who gave others life. Your support ensures this meaningful project comes to fruition.

196 people in Montana are waiting for an organ transplant.

Every 9 minutes another person is added to the transplant waiting list.

Each donor can save 8 lives and enhance over 75 more.
